

organic cookies for today's healthy consumers

Whether serious about health, concerned about weight or just in need of a little indulging, we have cookies that appeal to today's consumers. Each recipe was developed from scratch to meet strict organic requirements and most importantly, provide melt-in-your-mouth taste and satisfying texture. The package design for our exciting line features a colorful illustration that always gets noticed. We commissioned an artist to depict a scene with people of all ages, races and genders enjoying cookies, coffee and milk while socializing together in an energetic, outdoor setting.
